Senator Levin To Join In Moving Wall Ceremony

The Vietnam Memorial Moving Wall — a 250-foot, half-scale replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. — visits Grayling from August 23 to 29, at the Camp Grayling Parade Field. Daily viewing hours are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Memorial Moving Wall grew out of talks among three Vietnam veterans from California — John Devitt, Gerry Haver and Norris Shears — for the sole purpose of sharing.

Construction began in February, 1983, and was completed in October, 1984. Like the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, the Moving Wall was financed through contributions made by the public.

The Moving Wall's Crawford County visit is sponsored by the Camp Grayling Area Minutemen Foundation. Committee member Donna O'Grady explained that the Foundation wanted to bring it to Grayling to give area residents an opportunity to see the Vietnam Memorial without having to travel to Washington.

As of January 1, 1990, there are 58,175 names of American military people, killed between 1959 and 1975, listed on the Memorial. Approximately 1,300 of those listed are still P.O.W.s and M.I.A.s.

Names are listed in chronological order, according to the date of the casualty. Within each day, the names are alphabetized. For M.I.A.s, the casualty date is the date they were reported missing.

The list starts and ends at the apex, beginning with the date 1959 on panel 1E. The listing goes out to the end of the east wall (70E), then resumes at the end of the west wall (70W), and ends with the date 1975.

Several copies of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Directory of Names will be available for use at the Moving Wall. Also, volunteers will be present to help visitors find the names they seek.

Two additional services are provided by the Friends of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, 1350 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Suite 300, Washington, D.C. 20036:

The "In Touch" program, a centralized data base, can assist people in their search for others who knew someone whose name is inscribed on the Wall. Also, name rubbing requests can be fulfilled at the Wall in Washington, D.C. Both services are offered free of charge and applications will be available at the Moving Wall site.

The Opening Ceremony will take place at 6 p.m. on Thursday, August 23. Master of Ceremonies is Lieutenant Colonel Wayne Koppa, Commanding Officer of Camp Grayling, Michigan National Guard.

Speakers will include: Major General Vernon Andrews, Adjutant General of the Michigan National Guard; Robert Golnick, Grayling Mayor; Robert McLachlan, Chairman of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners; Arnold Stancil, Grayling Township Supervisor; Connie Binsfeld, State Senator, 36th District; and Carl Levin, United States Senator. Grayling VFW Post 3736 will also participate in the ceremony.

A Candlelight Remembrance Service will be held on Saturday, August 25, at 7 p.m. Master of Ceremonies is Commander Daniel E. Lochner, Chaplain Corps, U.S. Naval Reserve, and Pastor, Mount Hope Lutheran Church of Grayling.

Choral selections will be presented by the Grayling Methodist Memorial Church Choir. Speakers will include: Dan Ashcraft, Member of the Vietnam Veterans of America, State of Michigan Council; and Donald E. (Digger) O'Dell, Lieutenant Colonel, U.S. Air Force, Retired. A roll call of the Northern Michigan Vietnam War casualties will be read. Petoskey VVA Chapter 68 Honor Guard will participate.

The Closing Ceremony will be held on Wednesday, August 29, at 6 p.m. Speakers will include Ralph Ostling, Member of the Michigan House of Representatives, 103rd District, and representatives of the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, American Veterans, and Veterans of Foreign Wars. VFW Post 4159 of Roscommon will participate.

Major Jerry Foehl of the Minutemen Foundation issued a special invitation to all service men and women — of the past, the present, and those who plan to enlist in the future — to attend this ceremony. At that time, they will receive special

Pace Of Manistee River Restoration Work Surprises Most People Involved

Work to restore the Upper Manistee River's trout fishery and other recreational features is proceeding at a pace that is surprising even the most optimistic of its supporters, says Joe Kulkun, chairman of the Upper Manistee River Restoration Committee.

"Thanks largely to camp Shawono (Michigan Department of Social Services) and Michigan Youth Corps (MYC) crews, control of streambank erosion and related improvement of public access are being expedited," he said.

The work consists mainly of placing rock riprap, revegetating exposed streambank, building timber stairways and retaining walls, and erecting post-and-rail fences. Partly as a result of this and last year's work, the riverbed is already revealing increased gravel exposure at many locations, according to Kulkun.

Spearheaded by the year-old, 13-member Upper Manistee River Restoration Committee (UMRRC), activity along the river intensified greatly in mid-June with the assignment to river projects of four MYC groups, two each in Crawford and Kalkaska counties. Supervised by personnel of the Department of Natural Resources (Mio, Grayling, and Kalkaska) and the Crawford-Roscommon and Kalkaska Soil and Water Conservation Districts, these young men and women have already made significant headway in correcting problems at the County Road 612 crossing and CCC Bridge State Forest Campground. Similar trouble spots between Cameron Bridge and Sharon, most of whose repair is being engineered by the U.S. Soil Conservation (SCS) office in Grayling, are also scheduled for MYC attention over the next few weeks.

Beginning earlier in the spring, arrangements with Camp Shawono staff made groups of up to 10 young men and counselors available for several hours each week to perform comparable work on Portage Creek. This work is being funded by the Department of Military Affairs and supervised by a UMRRC representative. The improvements along Portage Creek completed to date, including those made previously in conjunction with the new military road and gas pipeline crossing at Camp Grayling, constitute a major step toward restoring this tributary as premier trout habitat, said Kulkun.

Kulkun also acknowledged the Michigan Civilian Conservation Corps, Trout Unlimited, and AuSable-Manistee Action Council for underwriting construction materials; the Michigan National Guard's 125th Infantry (Co B, Saginaw), SCS, and Upper Manistee River Association for their volunteer treatment of a major erosion site off Riverview Road below M-72; the Crawford County Road Commission for its help on work at Cameron and CO 612 Bridges; the AuSable Conservation Trust for planting seedlings at treated erosion sites; the Huron Pines RC&D Area Council for coordinating much of the work described; and various area vendors for their patience and generosity. A growing number of financial contributions from private individuals and groups have also been received.

Additional repair work planned for later this summer and fall includes the horse crossing at Goose Creek Trail State Campground and the untreated erosion sites that remain between CO 612 and M-72. Funds with which to perform all or most of this work have been allocated by the DNR, specifically $25,000 for the trail crossing and $50,000 for as many of the other projects as can be accommodated. Also in the planning stage for action next year are a minimum of three sediment traps for removing excessive sand from Portage Creek, and the control of serious erosion at several points on the river's mainstream and lower North Branch in the Sharon area.

"The UMRRC salutes the Camp Shawono and MYC work crews, as well as their sponsors and supervisors, for a job well done. Committee efforts supplemented with contributions like theirs continue to unfold as a tribute to community interest in rehabilitating one of Northern Michigan's outstanding natural resources," said Kulkun.

Dean Celebrates 100th Birthday

Irene Dean will be celebrating her 100th birthday on August 22, and the staff of Meadows of Grayling is inviting her friends and acquaintances to stop by at 2 p.m. for a piece of birthday cake and a visit.

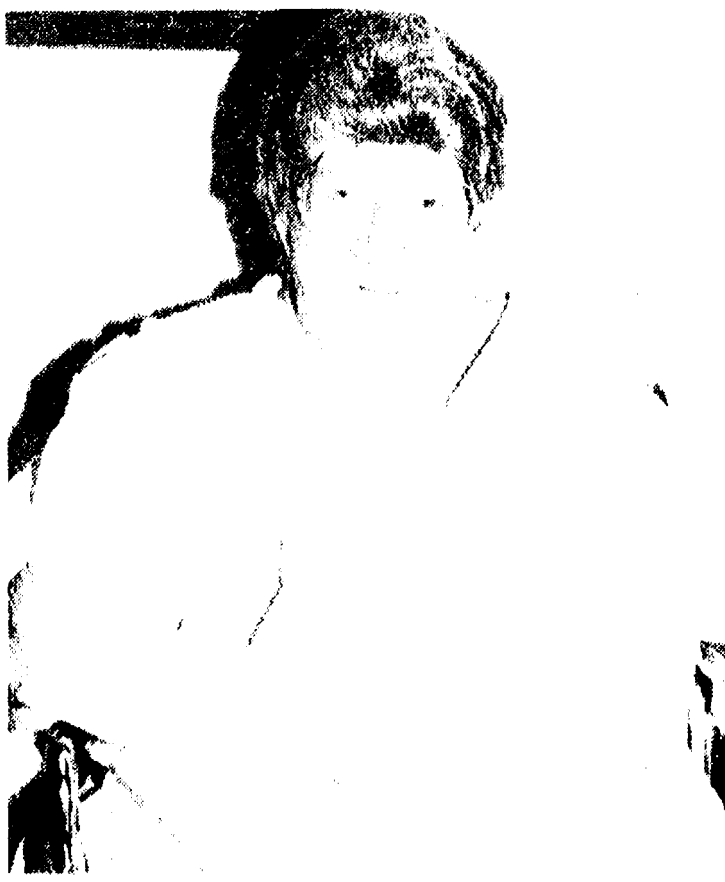

Mrs. Dean was born in the Detroit area on August 21, 1890. Before marrying her husband William in 1910, she worked in a street car office in Detroit.

The Deans moved to Grayling in 1942. Mrs. Dean worked as a cook for 25 years, 17 of those years she cooked at the Hanson Cafe, now called the Grayling Restaurant. The Hanson Cafe was owned by Frank and Emma Bennett.

William and Irene had two sons, Robert J. and William, of Florida, and one daughter Grace Hellenga, formerly of Grayling, now living in Rochester Hills. She has one sister, Alice Easterday, 94, and two brothers, Robert, 92, of Florida, and James Bird, now deceased. She has seven grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

While in Grayling, Mrs. Dean attended Calvary Baptist Church.

From 1977 to 1984, Mrs. Dean spent her winters in Ohio with her sister, Alice. She has been a resident of Meadows of Grayling for nearly 6 years.

CENTENNIAL YEAR—Irene Dean, a resident of Meadows of Grayling, will be 100 years old on Tuesday, August 21.

Perez, Sabin Open New Offices In Downtown Grayling

Mickey Perez and David Sabin have moved their business offices to 115 Michigan Avenue, next door to the Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel.

Perez, a certified public accountant, has been in business in Grayling for nearly 18 years, and Sabin, an attorney, has been practicing general law in Grayling for almost 21 years.

Sabin moved into his new office on June 15 and Perez moved in two weeks later. They celebrated their official opening on Friday, August 3.

Having shared many joint clients, Perez and Sabin have worked together professionally for many years and feel being located in the same office building will complement both businesses. During vacations, their offices will answer one another's telephones and take messages, eliminating the need for answering machines.

"I was looking for a new location and Dave wanted to move his business out of his home," explained Perez. "Being downtown has already proved to be more convenient for both of us."

"I have respected Mickey professionally for a long time," said Sabin. "Sharing an office with her will give me immediate access to an accountant whenever tax questions arise," he said, "which happens often."

Perez said it is nice to be able to walk to the courthouse for business matters and to be centrally located for the businesses served by her accounting business. She said the downtown office will make both businesses more visible to future clients.

Sabin said he wanted to be closer to the courthouse.

"The only deterrent to the downtown location is the lack of adequate parking," said Perez. "It has been a real problem this summer."

Even though being located in the same office building will make conferring professionally on accounting and legal matters readily available, Perez said the two practices remain separate businesses.

"We can consult with one another concerning our joint clients," she explained, "but my clients are also represented by other attorneys. Dave and I are not a package deal."

Sabin and Perez purchased the building that houses the new offices in early spring. Before moving in, the building was completely remodeled down to the wiring. Six inch insulated walls provide privacy for both businesses. Bob Kim was the construction contractor and Cora Flowers was the decorating consultant. The front of the building was designed by Sabin.

"We've had all kinds of compliments, which is nice," said Perez. "We like the new additions and it is nice to know others like it too."

Perez is the accountant for many small businesses in Grayling, and prepares all types of business taxes depending on the requirements of the business. She also does individual income taxes, trust tax accounting, estate taxes, and provides general business counseling.

"I always make time for my business clients," Perez said. "If they call and need five minutes for a quick question and I am free, I will take the call. If it is going to take longer, I will make an appointment with them."

In addition to Sabin's general law practice, he is the assistant prosecuting attorney, legal counsel for the City of Grayling, represents several governmental agencies such as the Crawford County Road Commission, and is Corporate Counsel for the Crawford County Board of Commissioners.

"I'm sure not having my office in my home will mean more time spent away from home," Sabin said, "but being downtown will make handling little emergencies more convenient for myself and my clients. If the Board of Commissioners want to talk to me I can walk rather than having to get in my car and drive to the courthouse."

Recycling Corner

By Carol Wakeley

I am pleased to hear that some people in the area enjoy my column. They are taking recycling seriously and even saving my articles. I have received several calls from people asking me questions on the right way to recycle. I guess that helps me to keep writing this column. Although there is a small percentage of people here in Grayling recycling, I hope to see it increased by the information I can provide.

Friends and family tell me I've gone a bit overboard with this recycling thing. I guess that's because they have witnessed me wash, dry, and reuse coffee filters and certain wrappings, have watched me take the time to cut paper labels off of plastic wrappings so the wrapping can be recycled, and I have refused to buy eggs in styrofoam cartons if paperboard cartons were not available. I put up with the snickers because I feel good knowing that I'm doing as much as I can to save our planet. Someday when they realize the importance of it, I hope they come to me for advice as they decide to change their habits.

People want recycling to be convenient; otherwise they don't want to do it. If you really care, though, you will be eager to put forth a little effort. Here in Crawford County, I feel recycling is made convenient, but there are still complaints. Most of them come down to the fact that people do not want to get in their car and drive their trash to a drop-off site. I suppose a "recycling carpool" could come about. Those in rural areas could have a designated driver and the rest help with the gas. Small groups can be formed in neighborhoods where everyone gets together and sorts their items and takes turns hauling it away. It could actually become fun. The bins at the refuse station are in a good location, considering everyone has to go to town and they are not going to have to go that far out of their way. Curbside pick-up is available for Milltown Refuse customers, and I understand that a recycling center has been started at Camp Shawono. So regardless of where you live, it is not a big effort to get your recyclables to a drop-off site.

We need more people involved in recycling. A lot more. What good is it going to do me to make sure my wastes are disposed of properly and to be very cautious as to what I use around my home, if everyone around me is going to do the opposite? What good will it do for any of us to take the time to protect this earth if the majority do not care? I would love to protect my little acre of land to keep it as a sanctuary for the wildlife around here. But I cannot stop bad water from entering where I live. I can't put up a shield to keep the air clean. It takes an effort on everyone's part. In every country. In every state.

I fear for this earth. Sometimes I wonder if it is too late. Has so much damage already been done that it is irreversible? I know that I always want clean water to drink. Good soil to grow things. I want to be able to breathe deeply without choking on the stench from industry. God gave man a brain and he is using it to slowly destroy himself. He has raped the land, diminished the wildlife, contaminated our necessities for living. We were put on this earth to take care of it and it in turn would take care of us. But that is not the way it is turning out.

It is too painful to watch the specials on television concerning the senseless slaughter of animals. In a world where so many species are endangered, what does it take to make people realize we have to preserve what is left of the animal kingdom?

What can be done to stop the markets for animal "parts"? Bears are killed for three things: the gall bladder, the teeth, and the claws. Elephants for their ivory. Whales for their blubber. Maybe just the skin is wanted, or maybe just the head of an animal. It continues to go on and on. Soon the only reminders we will have of certain species are their pictures.

In our national parks a tremendous effort is made to protect their beauty. Recycling containers are set up at campsites, rest areas, and park stores. The service stations in the parks are using new fuels that reduce hydrocarbon emissions better than before. They realize with all the vehicles that go through the parks each year, something has to be done to try to keep damaging fumes out of the air. They post warnings as to what can and cannot be done in addition to passing out newspapers with park rules.

How well it works is another issue. People take advantage of the recycling bins as a place to dump garbage, contaminate the streams by bathing and doing laundry or dishes, burn garbage in their fire pits, and deface delicate features that have been there for decades. A lot of the water is contaminated from human urine and feces. There is no respect on some people's parts for the breathtaking beauty of our parks.

It is scary to think of the future. People have this misconception that nothing drastic can happen right here in Grayling. Problems are just not confined to large, densely populated cities. Our landfill could be closed down just as others have. We all have to care and we have to start now.

Marathon Race Team Thanks Grayling

To the Residents of Crawford County:

We would like to take the opportunity to thank everybody in Grayling for all their positive support of our effort in the Canoe Marathon. From early summer, when we started coming up to practice on the river, to the big weekend, everybody we encountered was so friendly and supportive. The race committee, the staff at Ray's, the restaurant people, motels, old school friends (it was really great to see you again, Carol), fan support from total strangers all along the river all night long, and the couple who waited for us at Mio Dam — A giant thank you. You have to be there to understand how great it is to pass a campfire at two in the morning and have somebody cheering for you to keep trying harder, or to understand how grateful we were for the blankets from the couple who waited for us at Mio Dam, even though we were over the time limit. Thanks, and we'll be back next year.

Runner Very Impressed With Annual Milltown 10K Race

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those who organized the 11th annual Milltown 10K run.

I am originally from Grayling, but after graduating from college, I now make my home three and a half hours south of Grayling in Waterford. I have run several 10K's in the Metro Detroit area, but never the Milltown 10K. Hats go off to all who made this run one of the best of the season. The volunteers, spectators and participants made the race special.

As a participant in a race it is those qualities of the volunteers and spectators that will make this event successful for years to follow.

ALL ABOUT TOWN

Let's Talk About It By Joe Murphy

It seems strange to go back into an area you remember so fondly from many years ago and find it all changed. Country I rode over every day as a youth and places where I hunted all look different to me now. The pine plantations cover land I knew as wide open country. What we once referred to as the Deward Flats where you could see for miles, you can't see a hundred yards today. The oil companies have put in roads and changed old trails to the point where I can't find my way around in country I used to know like a book. The trail roads where you drove around in any old car are torn up to where you need a four-wheel drive to make it through now. I guess I just forget that a great many years have passed since I saw it last. Time seems to make a lot of changes. I know it changed a boy into an old man before I really noticed.

I think that happens to a lot of us. We are so busy living and working we just don't notice the toll the passing years are taking. Retirement is just something that is way down the road and we give no thought of how fast it is approaching. Then we wake up some morning and find it is right at our door step. We welcome it with misgivings, not really sure we are ready for it. When yesterday you were a working man and today you are a retiree you wonder how 24 hours can make so much difference. Then it finally dawns on you that you are now an old man and you wonder where all those years went.

The weekly time book of the Salling and Hanson Flooring Mill for the year 1914 reached my hands last week. Most of the names were of people I had heard of or knew. In those days a ten-hour work day six days a week was the norm. Sometimes a 15 or more hour-day was put in. The wages paid were not shown, but I will bet that the wages they drew for that 60 or more hours would be considered pocket change today. Things were a lot less expensive then but they were making just enough to survive if they were careful. In those days the luxuries working people enjoy today were just a dream. I turned the book over to the Museum, if you would like to see it.

Speaking of the Museum, if you have not visited it yet you are denying yourself a real pleasure. It just keeps getting better all the time. In addition to the depot, there is the old town hall, the trapper's cabin, the caboose, and soon a fire station will join the complex. We pray that Camp Grayling's old-time fire truck will be allowed to come back where it belongs. I would like to see a building there that would house an exhibit of Camp Grayling history. I feel a lot of people would enjoy it, including visiting Guard people and their families.

Almanac

By Richard Milliman

'New idea' really an old one

THERE HASN'T BEEN much public discussion — after a first few journalistic notices — about a supposedly new proposal by Gov. James Blanchard to elect the state's superintendent of public instruction.

At present, the superintendent is appointed by the partisanly-elected state board of education. Frequently the appointment is along party lines. So are many of the board's decisions.

Mr. Blanchard proposed that to get away from that sort of partisanship, perhaps the superintendent should be elected directly by the voters. That way he/she would be responsible to the voters who elected him/her, rather than the politicians who appointed her/him.

MAYBE NOBODY told the governor — at least, he certainly didn't mention it — but that's exactly the way we used to do it here in Michigan.

The superintendent of public instruction was an elective post. Each party nominated candidates, and the election was held in the spring to separate the education decision from gubernatorial or presidential politics.

As a matter of fact, Michigan used to have several other elective administrative officers in state government. Now, there is the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and secretary of state.

Not too long ago, voters also chose the state treasurer and state auditor general, as well as the state highway commissioner and superintendent of schools.

That all changed about 30 years ago. The most recent state constitutional convention in 1961-62 wanted to do away with election of all but the four presently elected administrative offices, and the voters in a statewide election adopted the present constitution in 1963.

THE REASONING OF CONSTITUTION framers was to focus administrative responsibility in the hands of the governor, and to do away with the many independent political kingdoms that are possible when so many state officials are elected directly.

Maybe the present system in education isn't working well. Maybe there's too much politics. Maybe the state board of education should be smaller...maybe it should be appointed by the governor...maybe the superintendent should be appointed directly by the governor.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

Like a lot of folks, I'd quit my job if I won the lotto. But I wouldn't quit to start my own business or to travel around the world.

If I won the lotto, I'd stop working so I could personally drive Lt. Pete Collins around the country to high schools.

A recent Detroit News article described how Collins has been on a crusade for the last six years, trying to warn high school students about the horrors and deaths caused by drunk driving.

"I've been a Mississippi state trooper for 18 years and I've walked up to 168 doors and I've knocked," said Collins to high school students at Livonia, Michigan, recently.

"I can tell you how your mother will scream, how your daddy will beat his fist against the wall, how he'll take your picture and sink to the floor."

The Detroit News article explained how Collins began his crusade six years ago after he came upon a car wreck that still makes him shiver.

Three children, a brother and two sisters, were traveling to a homecoming game when a drunken teenager hit their car head on. The boy and girl in the front seat were killed instantly, but the 15-year-old girl in the back, Patricia, was still alive when Collins arrived at the scene.

He tried to pull her out, but couldn't. Before he could leave to get more help, Patricia asked him, "Mister, I'm not fixing to die, am I?"

"I won't let you die," Collins told her and then she said, "Promise me."

Collins promised her she wouldn't die but when he came back he said those big beautiful eyes were staring off into space.

"So I couldn't keep my promise to her," Collins told the Livonia high school students. "But if someone will listen, I'll try to keep that promise to someone else."

Collins is able to reach many students with his crusade. Hip, street-tough teenagers have actually broken down and cried during his speech. Some remember friends and relatives they have lost because of drunk driving accidents.

He tells students not to drink and drive and warns them about getting into a car with someone who's been drinking.

During one of his presentations, Tom Monaghan, owner of the Detroit Tigers, offered to pay his travel expenses. Now Collins travels to schools across the country with his message, hoping someone will take his message to heart.

There are a lot of us who envision performing great and noble deeds if we win the lotto and have a lot of money. Why are we waiting to win the lottery? Lt. Pete Collins didn't wait.

"...but before we got half-way to their planet, the space aliens made a special trip just to bring me back!"

Local Youth Re-enacts Voyage Made By French Fur Traders

Local youth Jeremiah Hoover, 16, participated in a different type of canoe marathon, when he and 11 other men re-enacted a voyage typical of the French fur traders, from Mackinaw City to Midland in July.

The trip was made by the Sanford Brigade as a part of Midland's Riverdays Festival. The crew, dressed in 17th century voyageur garb, paddled an 800-pound reproduction of the canoes used by the French trappers as they penetrated the interior of North America in the 1600s and early 1700s.

The original freight canoes, made of birch bark, carried up to four tons of furs, all manner of trade goods, supplies, and up to 12 men. The modern version, a 34-foot fiberglass Montreal canoe rented at a cost of $700, was lighter and easier to paddle.

Nevertheless, said Wendell Hoover, who paddled part of trip with his son, it was hard work. "There's nothing (in the design) that does the work for you."

The group left Mackinaw City at 6:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 14, for the eight-day trip. They averaged 35 to 40 miles each day along the shore of Lake Huron, then on the Saginaw and Tittabawassee Rivers.

Although the canoe carried a sail, the crew was able to use it only once, for a short time. The rest of the trip was made into nearly continual three to four mile-per-hour head winds.

Jeremiah said that the men averaged 40 to 50 paddle strokes per minute, and once went as high as 60, for an average of 5 to 7 miles per hour, depending upon weather conditions. They pulled over only a couple of times, because of waves, which reached as high as six feet on Lake Huron.

He didn't train for the grueling experience. After the first day, he said that couldn't pick up his arms over his head. On the second day, though, paddling got easier, and the third day was perhaps his easiest of all.

On the second day out, Jeremiah took over the front position. As bowman, he had to read the lake and rivers for obstacles that might have torn up the canoe.

He said that he "traveled light and froze at night." His one pair of blue jeans were wet "almost all the time," even though it rained only once, on Thursday.

The 12 voyageurs ranged in age from 16 to 65 years. Jeremiah, the youngest, said that he was "picked on a little, but not too much." Three people were experienced canoeists, one man knew Lake Huron well, and yet another man had never been in a canoe. They were accompanied by a good support crew, including a cook, so they "never went hungry."

Wendell Hoover, Park Interpreter at Hartwick Pines, traveled with the group from Mackinaw City to Harrisville, and joined them again from Freeland to Midland, but work precluded him from making the entire trip.

The crew ended their voyage at Midland's Tridge on Saturday, July 21, where a large crowd was present to meet them. Jeremiah, who is a veteran of several colonial period re-enactments, said that seeing all the people didn't faze him.

And yes, he would like to make the 240-mile trip again. But next time he wants to attempt a more adventurous trip, paddling without the assistance of the support crew.

VOYAGEURS RE-ENACTMENT--Jeremiah Hoover was the bowman for the Sanford Brigade's eight-day canoe voyage from Mackinaw City to Midland in honor of the latter's Riverdays celebration.

Cards of Thanks

The Frederic Fire Department would like to thank North End Grocery for donating the Bat Mobile that was raffled off at the car show.

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne LaChappelle, are now at home in Healy, Alaska. Their wedding took place at the Wyndham Paradise Valley Resort in Scottsdale, Arizona, on January 13, 1990. A longtime friend of the bride and groom, the Hon. Norman S. Fenton, of Tucson, Arizona, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, Linda K. Albert, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Albert of Tucson. The groom is the son of Mrs. Iris Corr of Grayling and the late William LaChappelle.

The bride wore a white wedding gown with a bateau neck, leg o' mutton sleeves and a ten foot cathedral train. The bodice, sleeves and train were heavily beaded with pearls and sequins.

For the double ring rites, the bride's sister, Sharon Albert, of West Upton, Massachusetts, was the Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids include Peggy Spencer and Maureen Brady, both of Anchorage, Alaska, and Linda Spencer of Albany, New York.

Clare LaChappelle, the groom's brother, of Orlando, Florida, was the best man. Ushers were Dan LaChappelle of Colorado Springs, Colorado, Mike LaChappelle of Grayling, and Jeffrey Lesker of Scottsdale.

To share this joyous occasion, wedding guests arrived from twelve states, including Alaska and Hawaii. Guests began to arrive at the hotel a day prior to the wedding. A rehearsal dinner for 40 was held at Spazzizi's, the hotel restaurant.

Following the dinner, the groom was whisked away by his brothers and Linda's cousins to a local dance establishment where a bachelor party was held.

The weather was sunny and 80 degrees as the ceremony started. The ceremony was held in a decorated gazebo in the courtyard of the resort.

Following the ceremony and prior to the dinner reception, an hor's d'oeuvres and cocktail party was held in Bouchons gourmet dining room of the hotel.

The dinner was held in Rattlers, a beautiful room with an elevated marble bar. A five-piece band announced the grand entrance of the bridal party.

A two-week honeymoon was spent in Jamaica, West Indies.

Others attending from Grayling were the groom's aunt and uncle, Skip and Gail Madsen, his sister, Monica Ashton, his sister and brother-in-law, Joelyn and Jim Krutsh of South Bend, Indiana.

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free and reduced-price meals or free milk.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced-price meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) monthly source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case or AFDC number if the household is on food stamps or receives AFDC; (2) names of all household members; (3) social security numbers of head of household or primary wage earner; and (4) the signature of an adult household member or primary wage earner.

FOOD STAMP/AFDC HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced-price meal or free milk benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals or milk for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy the Secretary of Special Education will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: George E. Johnson, 11051 N. Cut Rd., Roscommon, MI. (517) 275-5137. C.O.O.R. has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

In the operation of the child feeding programs no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Ten Holes In One Hit On Local Courses

Be it luck or be it talent, this has been a successful summer for Crawford County golfers in their quests for the ever-elusive hole in one.

The most recent was Debbie St. Germain's hole in one at the Grayling Country Club on Monday, August 13. Debbie and husband Gerry (who shot a career low 35 that evening) were accompanied by daughters Jessica and Jill, when her drive with a three-wood on hole #7 went the entire 122 yards and dropped in.

Debbie refused to say what her score for the entire round was, but she did admit it was the only hole she did well on in what was her first attempt at golf this season.

Outstanding local golfer Rudy (Marty) Martinez got his second career hole in one on #11 on July 31, while playing with Ralph Davison, Dave McClain and Keith Glaza at the Grayling Country Club.

Marty, who shot a 39 on the round, says it was a "good shot all the way. It hit two feet beyond the pin, took a little hop away from the hole and rolled right in."

There have been eight holes in one at Fox Run Country Club this season. On May 13, Lou Jansen accomplished the feat on hole #17, which is 74 yards over water.

James Rutledge (May 23) and Perry Ramsey (June 15) hit holes in one on #5, a 125-yard hole that runs from an elevated tee to an elevated, severely sloped green.

Bob Fallow hit his hole in one June 8, on #7, a 151-yard hole, with a green that slopes from back to front and has three bunkers around it.

Mary Smith (July 19) and Mike Husby (July 29) hit holes in one on #17. Mary made hers from the women's tee (74 yards) and Mike, a golf pro, made his from the professional tee (121 yards).

The two other Fox Run holes in one will be described in a future issue.

Heimlich Maneuver Helps Brother

Chad Ventline, 15, of Grayling, used the Heimlich maneuver to dislodge a corn chip his 7-month-old brother John was choking on about 6:30 p.m. Monday, August 13.

Chad and his 17-year-old sister were watching John and their two-year-old sister for their parents Ed and Joellen Ventline, who were away from the home for a short time. Their young sister offered John a corn chip when no one was looking and the hard corn chip became lodged in John's throat. Chad, who doesn't remember where he learned the Heimlich maneuver, performed the procedure properly to dislodge the chip.

Ed Ventline said the incident showed the importance of learning first aid and other safety instructions most kids think they'll never need to know.

Sunglasses for Windows

It's like putting sunglasses on a window, says David Bibler, about applying Lumar, solar-controlled window films.

The Micro-thin, polyester-mylar films are virtually invisible when properly applied to existing windows.

But the films block up to 80 percent of the heat in summer and retain up to 65 percent of the heat in winter, says Bibler, co-owner of Quality Window Tinting in Traverse City, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, with his wife, Judy.

Three types of films -- reflect-tive, non-reflective and Low E series are available, all of which virtually eliminate the ultra-violet rays which cause sun rot, sun fading and sun glare. These films are all covered by a 7-year warranty.

Quality Window Tinting also installs solar control film on motor homes and passenger vehicles. All installations come with a lifetime guarantee.

It's Dad Who Has To Pay

From the day his first heir is born
Until his dying day
His little heir is figuring out
Some way to make dad pay

The baby soon learns that dad is a soft touch
That he can wind around his finger
And as the baby grows into a boy
The lessons he learned as a baby still linger

He soon has enough toys
For ten children to play
But still he pleads for more
And it's dad who has to pay

When he becomes a young man
He just can't live without a car
Though the school's two blocks away
He claims that it's too far

Soon he gets to dating girls
Takes them to park on Lovers' Hill
He's the one who gets the loving
But it's old dad who pays the bill

Then of course there's college
For which old dad has to pay
Poor old dad begins to wonder
If he will ever earn his own way

Soon the young man gets married
Old dad smiles in a secret way
Knowing the young man soon will learn
That it's dad who has to pay.

Pet Care Tip

Crawford County Animal Control Officer Marge Mathew provides pet owners with the following tips for preventing active dogs from overturning their water dishes.

- 1) Use a Buntt pan for the watering bowl. Put a stick through its middle hole and into the ground.
- 2) Buy a double-headed metal clip at the hardware store. Clip one end to the water bucket handle and the other to the kennel fence.

Keeping fresh water out for your pets at all times is important, especially during the hot summer months.

A Look At Our Past

23 Years Ago August 17, 1963

Aug. 6 - Seaman Apprentice Gerald L. Owens, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Owens of Grayling, Mich., has reported for duty at the Naval Support Activity in Da Nang, Vietnam.

The Board of Trustees was virtually assured by the State of Michigan of the site for Kirtland and Community College. In a letter received from J.D. Stepansky, Chief of the Lands Division, Department of Conservation, the price of $15,200 was established by the State after careful appraisal. Kirtland Community College will be able to acquire the 160 acres at this price by purchasing other lands that the State wishes to obtain in trading properties.

The new line of bows from Bear Archery Company, Grayling, Michigan will bear the distinctive touch of master bowyer Owen E. Jeffery.

A fire was reported at 3:30 August 10 four miles south of M-72 and 1/4 mile east of Stephan Bridge Road which burned 1/2 acre. The cause of the fire was unknown. It was taken care of by the equipment of the Roscommon Department of Conservation.

A fire was reported at 3:37 August 10 at 1/4 mile north of M-72 and east of Goose Creek Truck Trail, cause of the fire also unknown. This was brought under control by equipment from the Grayling Conservation, Grayling Fire Department and the Kalkaska Equipment Station. Twentieth on an acre of Jack Pine slash was burned.

Another fire was reported August 14, at 11:30 in the Lovells area. The Robert Binker cabin was afire, burning some land surrounding it. Cause of the fire was unknown.

The Grayling Fire Department was called to extinguish a blaze Friday at 10:10 a.m. on the Old Lake Road in a shanty at the Anna Scott property, cause unknown.

The 380-mile Ohio-to-Soo Freeway will be brought up to full freeway standards when this and five other grade separations and interchanges near here are completed this fall. The State Highway Commission reports the present 65-55 M P H speed limit on a 31-mile section of US-27 from the Clare-Roscommon County line north will be raised to 70 MPH at that time. The final section of the Ohio-Soo Freeway was opened to traffic in 1963 but grade-level crossings remained between Clare and Grayling.

46 Years Ago August 17, 1944

The Grayling home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Callahan was destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon together with most of its contents. The Callahans, who reside in Pinconning, had come to Grayling for the weekend and left about 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon on a canoe and fishing trip on the AuSable. Planning to have a steam bath when they returned from their trip, they left the furnace burning which is believed to have caused the fire because of a defect in it. The firemen did a good job in preventing any spread of fire as everything is dry as tinder. This property was formerly known as the Finnish Hall, but after purchasing it, Mr. Callahan had gradually made improvements to it and of late some extensive ones, so that it was one of the nicest homes on the south side. A beautiful new fireplace was completed a couple of weeks ago by Einar Tahvonon.

Sergeant Ross P. Thompson, 19-year-old ball turret gunner on an 8th AAF B-17 Flying Fortress, has been awarded the First Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for "exceptionally meritorious achievement" during bombing attacks on Nazi military and industrial targets. Sgt. Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G.E. Thompson of Lake Street, Grayling.

Clarence Papendick, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.V. Papendick, is receiving his initial indoctrination at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

L.D. Berry returned Thursday last from a vacation spent at Indian River and Pickers Lake. Miss Mildred Ketelhut

Doodles from the Tall Timber Wendall Hoover

Woodpeckers are really unique in a number of ways. No other bird species leaves so much evidence of its presence. A woodpecker's whole body is designed for its life of making holes in solid wood.

Since they sometimes drive their bill into wood as many as 100 times a minute, their head bones are joined together by a tough elastic tissue which serves as a shock absorber. Strong neck muscles provide the force and bristly feathers around the nostrils filter out any wood dust generated while chipping a hole in wood.

With four toes on the foot, which is supported by short, powerful legs, the bird can cling to a tree with little difficulty. The two toes pointing to the front and the two pointing to the rear provide a tong-like grip.

The two middle feathers on the tail are quite stiff and strong, and act as the main prop when the bird is holding onto a tree. During the annual molt, those two feathers do not fall out until the other feathers are replaced. The tips of the tail feathers are so flexible that they will bend and spread into every crevice of the wood's surface to support the bird.

Woodpeckers are insect eaters and much of what they eat live in or on wood. When a woodpecker goes to work on a tree, living or dead, it is a sure indication of an insect problem. In this area that problem will be carpenter ants or wood borers. Woodpeckers can actually eliminate a colony of carpenter ants. They have a long, flexible tongue which allows penetration into an insect's tunnel. The tip of the tongue has barbs on it, which allows it to spear the insect. The insects become pre-digested food for the one brood of young raised each year.

Woodpeckers use their beaks to establish territory and attract a mate. So the next time you hear their hammering, remember just how unique they are.

Older Michigianians Get Legal Hotline

The Legal Hotline for Older Michigianians, a new no-cost legal service for older Michigan residents, started operations on July 19.

The Legal Hotline is a statewide program that provides direct toll-free telephone access to experienced attorneys for Michigan residents age 60 and older. The Legal Hotline is particularly interested in making lawyers available to homebound seniors and those in rural areas around the state.

The program is funded by the Legal Council for the Elderly, a department of the American Association of Retired Persons, the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging, and the Senior Justice Committee's Pro Bono Project of the State Bar of Michigan.

Seniors can reach the legal Hotline by calling 1-800-347-LAWS during normal business hours: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Legal Hotline can help with many kinds of legal problems. Examples include: Medicare and Medicaid questions, Social Security/SSI problems, landlord-tenant questions, consumer law issues, and real estate matters.

The Bible Speaks

CHRISTIAN AND STATE EDUCATION

Christian Law Association is holding a Biblical-Legal Seminar in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, August 13-16, with attorneys from the law firm of Gibbs & Craze to enlighten Christians on the "Legal Rights of Christian Students and Teachers in Public Schools." Many Christians who for various reasons feel it necessary to continue in the public schools need help to know how they can help restrain the infiltration of the New Age religion into the vacuum created by removal of state, Bible, and morals from state education.

CLA makes the following suggestions: "1. First, inform yourselves and others of this devilish new religion. 2. Second, organize concerned Christian teachers, parents, and students and petition your school board to avoid or cease using New Age curriculum and philosophy. 3. Third, assemble your group at a scheduled school board meeting to present your petition and concerns."

On the positive side, "the U.S. Supreme Court, in a decision dated June 4, 1990, (Board of Education v. Mergens) upheld the constitutionality of Public Law No. 98-377, commonly known as the Equal Access Act. The Equal Access Act makes it unlawful for any public secondary school which has a "limited open forum" to deny equal access to any students who wish to conduct a meeting on the basis of the religious content of the speech at such a meeting." Attorney David Gibbs will suggest legal guidelines on the Equal Access Act during the legal workshops in the Seminar at Winston-Salem.

CLA gives some instructions on "How To Start a Bible Club." "The Equal Access Act authorizes a Bible club as a limited open forum if the school uniformly provides that: 1) The meeting is voluntary and student initiated, 2) There is no sponsorship of the meeting by the school, the government, or its agents or employees, 3) Employees or agents of the school or government are present at religious meetings only in a non-participatory capacity, 4) The meeting does not materially and substantially interfere with the orderly conduct of educational activities within the school, and 5) Non-school persons may not direct, conduct, control or regularly attend activities of student groups."

"Please pray for Christian students across America as they attempt to gain equal access to start Bible clubs in public schools. Praise the lord that Christian students do not have to forsake their religious liberty at the front door of public schools." Above material and quotes used by permission from Christian Law Association Newsletter, August 1990.

"...IN HIS OWN IMAGE"

"And God created... every living creature that moves" (Gen. 1:21)

Every creature which has ever existed on earth has a conception, unique to its species... lives out a life span in its own environment... and then dies, at which point the physical remains begin an inevitable surrender to the elements. Eventually, decomposition is complete and nothing exists... with one miraculous exception... man.

"And God created man in His own image." (Gen. 1:27) Someone attempted to preserve these seashells in a shining glass jar. Yet, even this protection is subject to destruction. But, God, in His infinite grace and wisdom endowed man with a unique, indestructible immortality. He gave us a soul... created from His own spiritual image. Thus, though our body also returns to dust, man, having an immortal soul, is capable of experiencing eternal life.

Enter God's House this week. Take your first step on the road to eternity.

Older Michiganians Get Legal Hotline

The Legal Hotline for Older Michiganians, a new no-cost legal service for older Michigan residents, started operations on July 19.

The Legal Hotline is a statewide program that provides direct toll-free telephone access to experienced attorneys for Michigan residents age 60 and older. The Legal Hotline is particularly interested in making lawyers available to homebound seniors and those in rural areas around the state.

The program is funded by the Legal Council for the Elderly, a department of the American Association of Retired Persons, the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging, and the Senior Justice Committee's Pro Bono Project of the State Bar of Michigan.

Seniors can reach the legal Hotline by calling 1-800-347-LAWS during normal business hours: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The Legal Hotline can help with many kinds of legal problems. Examples include: Medicare and Medicaid questions, Social Security/SSI problems, landlord-tenant questions, consumer law issues, and real estate matters.

The Bible Speaks

CHRISTIAN AND STATE EDUCATION

Christian Law Association is holding a Biblical-Legal Seminar in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, August 13-16, with attorneys from the law firm of Gibbs & Craze to enlighten Christians on the "Legal Rights of Christian Students and Teachers in Public Schools." Many Christians who for various reasons feel it necessary to continue in the public schools need help to know how they can help restrain the infiltration of the New Age religion into the vacuum created by removal of state education.

CLA makes the following suggestions: "1. First, inform yourselves and others of this devilish new religion. 2. Second, organize concerned Christian teachers, parents, and students and petition your school board to avoid or cease

using New Age curriculum and philosophy. 3. Third, assemble your group at a scheduled school board meeting to present your petition and concerns."

On the positive side, "the U.S. Supreme Court, in a decision dated June 4, 1990, (Board of Education v. Mergens) upheld the constitutionality of Public Law No. 98-377, commonly known as the Equal Access Act. The Equal Access Act makes it unlawful for any public secondary school which has a "limited open forum" to deny equal access to any students who wish to conduct a meeting on the basis of the religious content of the speech at such a meeting." Attorney David Gibbs will suggest legal guidelines on the Equal Access Act during the legal workshops in the Seminar at Winston-Salem.

CLA gives some instructions on "How To Start a Bible Club," "The Equal Access Act authorizes a Bible club as a limited open forum if the school uniformly provides that: 1) The meeting is voluntary and student initiated, 2) There is no sponsorship of the meeting by the school, the government, or its agents or employees, 3) Employees or agents of the school or government are present at religious meetings only in a non-participatory capacity, 4) The meeting does not materially and substantially interfere with the orderly conduct of educational activities within the school, and 5) Non-school persons may not direct, conduct, control or regularly attend activities of student groups."

"Please pray for Christian students across America as they attempt to gain equal access to start Bible clubs in public schools. Praise the lord

"...IN HIS OWN IMAGE"

"And God created... every living creature that moves" (Gen. 1:21)

Every creature which has ever existed on earth has a conception, unique to its species... lives out a life span in its own environment... and then dies, at which point the physical remains begin an inevitable surrender to the elements. Eventually, decomposition is complete and nothing exists... with one miraculous exception... man.

"And God created man in His own image." (Gen. 1:27)
Someone attempted to preserve these seashells in a shining glass jar. Yet, even this protection is subject to destruction. But, God, in His infinite grace and wisdom endowed man with a unique, indestructible immortality. He gave us a soul... created from His own spiritual image. Thus, though our body also returns to dust, man, having an immortal soul, is capable of experiencing eternal life.

Enter God's House this week. Take your first step on the road to eternity.

The San Francisco earthquake couldn't have provided more graphic evidence of the sorry condition of our nation's bridges and highways. "The state of bridges and the state of their funding in the U.S. is so bad that if we were a Third World country, we'd go to the World Bank for a loan," says Lonnie Haefner, Ph.D., professor of civil engineering.

Run, Walk or Roll To Help Fight Cancer

Men, women, boys and girls will take to the hills on September 22 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon at Hanson Hills in Grayling. Teams from all over the northern Michigan area will run, walk, jog, or otherwise propel themselves around the course in an effort to raise money in LOCAL MOTION '90, sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Teams are invited to walk in memory of a cancer victim or in honor of a cancer fighter or survivor. In addition, cancer survivors are invited to kick off this event by walking the first lap. Survivors are encouraged to walk this "victory lap" whether they are on a team or not.

LOCAL MOTION '90 is a relay event in which teams of any size (four to ten participants are suggested) walk, run, skip, hop or ride a stationary bike with one team member on the course at all times.

Participants raise sponsorship money from friends and associates rather than pledges. This money is turned in the day of the event. Prizes will be awarded to individuals based on their level of fundraising. A minimum total sponsorship of $10 is requested from each participant.

Every participant earns a LOCAL MOTION '90 t-shirt. A soup and salad luncheon will be served for all participants immediately following the event. These prizes are made available by local merchants.

If interested in participating in LOCAL MOTION '90, or for more information, call Betsey Mitchell at 348-8624 or write the American Cancer Society, P.O. Box 350, Grayling, MI 49738
